To whom it may concern,

We would like to thank the development team of Vladimir Gruzdev and Serge Shcherback.

We have thoroughly enjoyed our relationship with your company, where you have developed various projects and especially Personalica, a social network platform for youth from around the globe.

During these years we haven't had any difficulties with scalability, additional project developments, and technical support.

This team is a real asset to our organization and is part of the reason we look forward to continuing doing business with Vladimir and Sergey again in the future.

Yours faithfully,

Andrew Ahachinsky, VP of Business Development, Personalica Dating Services.
